Living Wall Pictures

If you haven't had your picture made or if new baby, children have grown, new hair style, wedding, or any changes, and would like to have a new picture made to be posted on our Living Wall, please see Barry Payne. He will take the photo for you after any worship service.

MARCH IS TORNADO ALERTNESS MONTH IN GEORGIA

If you have a weather radio that can be programmed for your area and you need help to get it programmed, please see Keith Taylor, and he will be glad to help you.

To all of you who have...prayed for me...sent cards to me...visited me...brought food to me...and have showed your love to me, I say a great big "thank you." You have held my hands with your love and prayers through this long battle, and I want you to know how much I appreciate it. I love you all so much. This battle may not be over yet, but knowing you love me and will walk with me means so much. Thank you.

Love,
Thamara Howell

Building Security

If you are the last one leaving the building, please look around and lock all doors behind you. Let's all take responsibility for what the Lord has blessed us with here in our building.

Dishes Lost & Found

If you have lost crockpot lids, casserole carriers, or dishes, please check the box located by the Silent Sister table to the right of the auditorium. They will soon be donated to charity.

Woodstock Church of Christ Weekly Bulletin

Welcome to the Lord's church that meets at Woodstock, Georgia. We find our authority in the inspired word of God and are governed in organization, faith, worship, and work according to God's Holy Word.

Vol. 25 No. 8 ARE SCIENCE AND FAITH MUTUALLY EXCLUSIVE? February 19, 2017

There have always been creation (Genesis 1) compromises like Theistic Evolution, the Gap Theory, the Moderated Gap Theory, The Day-Age Theory, etc. in order to appease evolutionary thought and arrive at an ancient earth. According to the following scientists, who were all serious students of the Bible and revered it as the Word of God, they felt no need to compromise the creation account by interpreting Genesis 1 any other way but literally with no additional assumptions. Let's reflect upon the thoughts of these dignitaries.

Johann Kepler (1571-1630)
As Kepler studied the heavens, he was awed by the power and wisdom of God. He once said that in his discoveries he was merely "thinking God's thoughts after Him." He wrote:

I thank Thee, my Creator and Lord, that Thou hast given me this joy in Thy creation, this delight in the works of Thy hands; I have shown the excellency of Thy works unto man, so far as my mind was able to comprehend Thine infinity (Northrop n.d., 266)

Robert Boyle (1627-1691)
The "father of modern chemistry" was Robert Boyle. He became convinced that the Bible is a divine revelation. He studied Hebrew and Greek in order to be able to read the Scriptures in their original languages. He contributed to the distribution of Bibles in several different languages. One biographer observed that his thinking became more devout the more he studied the wonders of nature. . . . At his death Boyle left a sum of money to found the Boyle lectures . . . intended for the confutation of atheism" (Hall 1970, 382).

Sir Isaac Newton (1642-1727)
As a result of his studies of the universe, Newton wrote: This most beautiful system of the sun, planets, and comets, could only proceed from the counsel and dominion of an intelligent and powerful Being (Hutchins 1952, 369).

He was buried beneath the floor of Westminster Abbey in London. Interestingly, he is buried beside Charles Darwin!

Louis Pasteur (1822-1895)
The father of modern bacteriology was Louis Pasteur. His contributions to medicine, chemistry, and industry were profound indeed. Rather than destroying his belief in God, Pasteur's brilliant discoveries made him humble as he contemplated the marvels of divine creation. He argued that the notion of "spontaneous generation (like materialism in general) threaten[s] the very concept of God the Creator" (Geison 1970, 371).

Wernher von Braun (1912-1977)
One of the pioneers of modern rocketry was Wernher von Braun. Dr. von Braun was the leading force behind America's space program. He wrote: It is as difficult for me to understand a scientist who does not acknowledge the presence of a superior rationality behind the existence of the universe as it is to comprehend a theologian who would deny the advance of science. Far from being independent or opposing forces, science and religion are sisters. . . . There is certainly no scientific reason why God cannot retain the same position in our modern world that He held before we began probing His six day creation with the telescope and cyclotron (Schaub 1981, 35, 38).

Conclusion:
Agnostic science writer, Dr. Robert Jastrow, probably said more than he intended when he concluded one of his books in the following fashion: For the scientist who has lived by his faith in the power of reason, the story ends like a bad dream. He has scaled the mountains of ignorance; he is about to conquer the highest peak; as he pulls himself over the final rock, he is greeted by a band of theologians who have been sitting there for centuries (Jastrow 1978, 116).

God has gloriously revealed himself in nature, and in his Holy Book, the Bible. Explore his message, and honor him in your life each day. He is the GREAT I AM!

-Matt
