Dear friends at the Woodstock Church of Christ,

Thank you for the lovely basket of flowers you sent when Mr. Claxton passed away last month. The support of fellow Christians has helped us greatly during our time of grief. Mr. Claxton's sister Carolyn Garner and her husband Floyd love the church at Woodstock dearly, and your kindness to them means very much to us.

In Christian love,
Michael Claxton

For your cards, calls and prayers, for all your expressions of love and caring, we thank you and pray God will bless you as richly as you have asked Him to bless us. We ask for your continuing prayers for the ongoing treatments.

WEEKLY

Vol. 19 No. 23

June 5, 2011

Welcome to the Lord's church that meets at Woodstock, Georgia. We find our authority in the inspired word of God and are governed in organization, faith, worship and work according to God's Holy Word.

Know My Habits; Know My Heart

Know my habits; know my heart! This proverb was never more evident than it was in the life of Jesus when he returned to His hometown of Nazareth. "So He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up. And as His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read" (Luke 4:16-17).

I recently heard a nationally renowned speaker say that he could discern the values that any person holds dear if he had access to only two documents. And, what are these two documents that hold the secrets of a man's heart? According to the speaker, they are his checkbook and his daily planner. From these two sources, he could determine how a person spends his time and how he spends his money. In that sense, I concluded that the speaker was correct! Everything that is truly important to me is reflected in my checkbook and my planner.

Jesus had habits just like everyone else. By carefully noting the text cited above, we gain insight into the values that Jesus held dear. Note that He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath days "as His custom was." The obvious import of this passage is that Jesus had, over a long process of time, developed the habit of going into the synagogue for the express purpose of worship on the Sabbath. His custom was one developed of His own volition and not by force of another. In the synagogue He could associate with others who respected God's laws and shared His view of their importance. He could read from the inspired Scriptures, God's Divine source of wisdom. He could discuss how the Scriptures applied to His own life and to the lives of those about Him. The fact that Jesus habitually visited the synagogue on a weekly basis reveals much about the character of Jesus.

I have heard people argue, "I can be a Christian without going to church every Sunday!" Usually I have heard this line in defense of one's habit of not attending church services. With Jesus' custom of attending the synagogue in view, I wonder if an informed person would make this argument to Jesus? I hardly think so! Why not? Because everyone knows--"Know my habits; Know my heart!"
