Woodstock church of Christ

WEEKLY

Vol. 18 No. 35

August 29, 2010

Welcome to the Lord's church that meets at Woodstock, Georgia. We find our authority in the inspired word of God and are governed in organization, faith, worship and work according to God's Holy Word.

A Note From Bryan. . . Following In the Footsteps of Jesus

Following in the footsteps of Jesus is a way of life for the Christian who is serious about his or her eternal home. You may be familiar with a poem that has been around since the 1940's entitled, Footprints in the Sand. According to the website www.footprints-in-the-sand.com the poem was written by Mary Stevenson in 1936 when she was a young girl. The poem was given out in hand written form by the author to various friends at low points in their lives. Through the years, because the author was young and did not know about copyrights, other people took credit for the poem, or simply attributed it to an unknown author. This is a poem that has been touching and inspirational to many.

God never promised us that our lives as His children on this earth were going to be easy. As a matter of fact, He has pretty much promised that life is going to be filled with struggles. More than that, God has promised that, if we are faithful through the struggles, there is a great reward awaiting us in heaven. Furthermore, God sent Jesus into this world to suffer for us so that heaven is possible for us and that He and the Son are here for us to bear us, carry us through when we don't have the strength to carry ourselves.

Like the poem illustrates, we can all point to times in our lives when there have been two sets of footprints, and we could all attest to running ahead or falling far behind our savior as He called to us offering to carry us. As we contemplate our Christian walk on this Lord's Day, it will do us good to think about what it means to follow in those footsteps of Jesus.
